A NORDIC MARKETPLACE...
SINCE 1921

Petroglyphs, the intriguing rock carvings found throughout the Nordic countries, date from the Bronze Age (1800 to 500 B.C.) The glyphs are pictures that tell a story - often marking important events and cultural information. Boats and rituals are frequent subjects.

In 2016, Sarpsborg, Norway will celebrate the 1000th anniversary of its founding! Since it lies in an area of southeastern Norway that has many petroglyphs, designer/resident Marry Raadahl and manufacturer Dale of Norway have teamed up to create a sweater that pays homage to its ancient past. Even the petroglyph pewter clasps were specially designed. 100% wool, made in Norway. XS - 3X was the powerful father of the gods in Norse mythology. His ravens Huginn ("thought") and Muninn ("memory") flew throughout the world each day, returning with news for him about everything they saw and heard. Hand-carved in Norway by the Henning Workshop. 9" 22698 $245

Runes first appeared around 150 AD and were commonly used up through the late Medieval period. Each rune had a meaning, and as such were used in ritual and divination probably long before they evolved into use as an alphabet. They were usually carved in wood and bone, written on animal skins, or carved in stone to memorialize deaths and events. Runes were an opportunity for wordplay and storytelling, a chance to express a sense of fun when writing.

New from Minnesota's Tokheim Stoneware and exclusively ours! This handmade beauty functions nicely as a bowl, a vase, or even a wine chiller! 5" tall, it features a beautiful green glaze and a finely incised rosemal design. 52309 $140

The strikingly beautiful Final Light at Sea was painted by Minnesota/Nevada artist Floyd Johnson. The print's Deco process gives it the look and feel of an oil painting; no glass is needed. It's complemented well by a rustic, wood-like frame.

LITTLE VIKINGS!

Tove Jansson

On this centenary of Tove Jansson's birth, we celebrate all things Moomin.
Jansson's first Moomin book appeared in 1945. The characters enjoyed life on a Finnish island much like the one where Jansson grew up, but they also experienced sadness and learned to accommodate one another's quirks. The books resonated with a world rebuilding after a war, and the overall message that the simple pleasures and being kind to one another make life worth living are meaningful still.

When I Was a Child, an Autobiographical Novel

by Vilhelm Moberg, Sweden, author of The Emigrants series.
In poverty-stricken Sweden, young Valter explores the world around him as his older brothers immigrate to America. With insight into the land, the people, and the larger issue of class struggle, Moberg offers a deeply moving view of the other side of Swedish immigration. Paperback, 268pp. 1956/2014 52553 $18.95

The Stranger

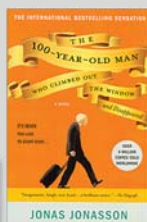

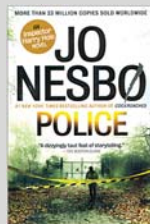

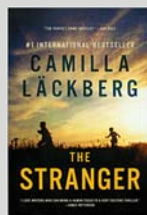

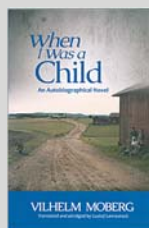

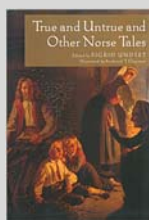

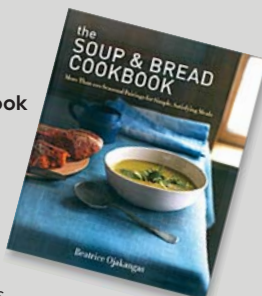

by Camilla Lackberg, Sweden.
A string of suspicious deaths and missing children: is there a killer on the loose? Detective Patrik Hedström finds himself increasingly unable to focus on the strange circumstances of one case, but what if that holds the key to the series of other unsolved cases across Sweden?
Paperback, 384pp. 2014 53657 $15.95

Police

by Jo Nesbø, Norway.
A vindictive killer is stalking Oslo's streets, slaying police officers at the scenes of crimes they once investigated but failed to solve. The department urgently needs Harry Hole, but when those he values most are facing terrible danger, he is in no position to protect anyone – least of all himself. Dark, intense, and mesmerizing.

A Connection to our Scandinavian Heritage – for 93 years!

Ingebretsen's has been in business on East Lake Street since 1921.

Family owned and operated for 3 generations, it has remained a neighborhood market and a meeting place, a place to keep our memories and traditions alive.

Over the years, we've seen many changes, but some things remain constant – our commitment to offer you great service and excellent products, to provide an understanding of and appreciation for our cultural heritage, and to be a positive force in our community.

We are thankful for you, our many and loyal customers.

Sincerely,

Julie Ingebretsen, Steve Dahl, Gary Coleman, Debbie Ingebretsen and Molly Ingebretsen – Managers
Honnie Ingebretsen & Warren Dahl – Owners and the entire staff of Ingebretsen's:

Mike, Travis, Barb, Betty, Bryan, Carmen, Carstens, Cathie, Denise A, Denise L, Diane, Finn, Gerry, Gus, Janice, Joan, Jorunn, Joyce K, Joyce S, Karen A, Karen H, Kate, Kathryn, Kathy, Laurie, Lee, Marion, Martha, Nancy M, Nancy P, Pat, Sandy, Steve P, Sue, Troy, Virginia, Willie, and the 500 (or so) Christmas season mail-order packers and meat guys.

Classes at Ingebretsen's

Ingebretsen's is more than just great gifts and food... take a class and connect with a community! Ingebretsen's presents classes, lectures and hands-on workshops on Scandinavian and Scandinavian-American arts, cooking, and culture. Experienced instructors with a love for their craft work with you in a small, friendly, class setting. Join us for one or two! Theodor Kittelsen 1857 – 1914

Say "troll!" and the image that comes to mind was probably influenced by the art of Theodor Kittelsen. Kittelsen was a Norwegian artist who found the scenery of his homeland "mysterious, romantic, and magnificent." He incorporated his realistic depictions of the natural world with his imaginative world of trolls and other creatures of Norwegian folklore. This year marks the 100th anniversary of Kittelsen's death; he left a legacy of illustrations that still shape our images of mythological creatures and inspire artists today.

The Troll Wondering How Old He Is

This high-quality print from Norway is one of Kittelsen's most famous and beloved works.

Image size is 10½ x 16½" . 53688 $45

More Kittelsen prints are available on our website, or call for information.
