The motto of Bergquist's Imports is,

"We want to put a little bit of Scandinavia in every home in America".

It's a big mission for a business founded in tiny Cloquet, Minnesota in 1948, but the Bergquist family is well on their way to reaching their goal. Margaret and Richard Bergquist started out importing Swedish products and primarily selling to resorts "up north", gradually expanding their base nation-wide. Their son Barry and his wife Vivian have continued that expansion. They purchased Berggren-Trayner (a venerable maker of ceramic products based on Swedish folk art) in 1986, and continue to add more to that line as well, using the talents of several local artist and designers.

Bergquist's imports the wonderful, collectible Nyform Trolls from Norway. They're molded of latex and hand-painted, and promise to bring good luck!

This native Minnesotan's art so perfectly captures the spirit of Norwegian tradition and family that her art tiles are sold in gift shops in Norway. A Vesterheim Gold Medalist for rosemaling, Suzanne enjoys combining the rosemaling with scenes containing people. She especially enjoys using her grandchildren and great-nephews as models. Suzanne's newest project is portraying prominent traditional craftspeople passing their knowledge down to the next generation.
